Looking forward to '98

Padre Golf XII plays Western Hills Country Club

"It is hard to beat the fantastic courses Padre Golf has played the past 11 years, but we'll have a heck of a course for '98," reports Padre Golf XII Chairman Phil Calentino.

Phil, a member of the Class of '48, has put down the preliminary plan for a May 11, '98 "Shotgun Start" at the Chino Hills course and while there is some committee work to do, it looks like a great day of golf and fellowship is in the works.

Moving the Padre back into May could have a cooling affect as the last two Padres have played out in warmer June conditions.

The Chino Hills links won't be a pushover for the par golfers that annually take on their old classmates and friends of Mt. Carmel. Western Hills is utilized as the L.A. Open qualifying course. But hold on, the club's golf carts have computers that give the exact distance of every shot as you drive down the fairway. Phil can be reached at 714-879-1886.

140 Golfers raise $40,000

Marabella Padre XI 'picture perfect'

Longtime Padre golfers are getting a great "taste" of Southern California golf links, as the challenging Marabella Country Club brought raves from the 140 participants in the recently completed 11th annual Padre benefit golf tournament.

The cooler climate of San Juan Capistrano, promised by Al Prukop, '97 Padre Chairman, unveiled a glorious day to renew old friendships, conduct the tournament and socialize into the evening while feasting on the scrumptious dinner.

"My job as committee chairman was a slam dunk because of the great work and willingness of the Padre Golf Committee," stated Prukop. "And we cannot forget that Father Nagle is just about a one man band. Nobody can say no to him."

$40,000 in additional contributions

Our Readers write

I would appreciate being put on your mailing list. Send to Miami, my forwarding point for my home in Guatemala. Can you provide back issues? Thanks in advance.

John R. "Jack" Eyre, '51

Ed. note: Jack got his back issues but please, we don't have any more to spare.

Please add my name to your mailing list. Thanks for getting the word out to all Carmel grads.

Rudy Gregory, '47
Palm Springs

Thanks so much for The Crusader. It's great!! Please keep me on mailing list. Enclosed is $15 to help with postage. Do you send it to other members of my class ('61)? If you'd like I can send a few addresses of classmates.

Thanks again for all your work in writing and publishing. I look forward to the next issue and reading about Mt. Carmel.

John Eaton
Colorado Springs, CO

Ed. note: John's $15 went to the Padre Fund. We are kicking around asking for a separate donation to the Padre Fund as a subscription to The Crusader, maybe by the winter issue. John is also related to Mrs. Cece Brindley, the first Mother's Club President. We hope to have that feature in upcoming issues.

Astounded! This would be the best description of my receiving a copy of The Crusader this week. After graduating from Loyola U. in "absentia" in '61 I have literally travelled all over the country/world. I have had a far reaching career with Mobil Oil.

I do not know if Mt. Carmel is still in existence. Your publication doesn't say.

John Hindinger, '57
Herndon, VA

Ed. note: It's closed and from now on we will indicate it on the front page masthead.

I received a copy of your newsletter from my brother John Keenan, '48. Since leaving Mt. Carmel, class of '56, I have been in the "east." I finished Notre Dame with BA and MA then went to Ohio as a probation officer, finishing up in Washington, D.C. as an administrator in the Federal Probation and Parole System. I'm retired but teach at the local community college.

It is always good to hear Mt. Carmel news.

Michael Keenan, '56
Springfield, VA

An Eastern Shore Reunion took place in May in Northern Virginia. Mike Kennan, '56, John Hindinger, '57, and Tom Pinard, '57, got together after a series of communications through the winter. Pinard was back in D.C. on Navy business and brought the two Carmel alums, who live about 15 miles apart, into contact. Posters were placed at the restaurant and three made sure that Virginians knew about Mt. Carmel L.A.

Ed. note: See above how Mt Carmel letter writers can get together!

Great article on Father Nagle's memories. It brought so much back. We need to have a repository for Carmel annuals, trophies, news stories, photos.

Maybe video histories from Father Nagle and others. It would have to be funded and have a permanent home. A part of L.A. is reflected in Mt. Carmel's 30+ years.

Jack Pinard, '50
Ventura

Ed. note: Big undertaking, but it makes sense. Any alums have thoughts? Write in.

I recently received The Crusader in my father's mail. I'm writing to inform you my dad, Ed Lipinski, passed away in Dec. '96. I don't know if my dad kept in touch with anyone he attended school with, but since he was receiving the newsletter, I thought you should know.

Steve Walsh
Carlsbad, CA

In Memoriam

Ed Lipinski left Mt. Carmel in 1946 to join the Navy. After five years in the service, Ed came home to marry Cathy and join the L.A. Police Dept. He served the city until his retirement in the early 1970s.

Cathy passed away in January of '96 and Ed was diagnosed with cancer in July. He was cared for by his children, Steve and Janet Calandrino, until his passing December 2, 1997.

The Lipinskis had lived in Palm Desert and Post Falls, Idaho after retirement.

Class of '38 prepares for 60th reunion

The first graduating class of Mt. Carmel held its 59th reunion on May 21, 1997, with celebration of mass by Father Nagle. Lunch followed at the home of Don and Mary Johnson.

Four classmates, Kenny Goodman, Don Johnson, Andy McCarthy and Jim Reh, with their wives attended.

The main topic for the day was the 60th reunion in 1998. The 23 grads of '38 are looking forward to celebrating a very special time.

Contact Jim Reh (4663 Madera Dr., La Verne, CA 91750. Ph: 909-593-0211) for information or if you have information on John Bayne, Matthew Bright or William De la Mater.
